EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

More revenue. Better experiences. Stronger brand. Easier operations.

The Torch is a Best of Boise legacy brand with two locations and a 16-hour daily operation that most operators would envy.

What's missing is the programming layer underneath the brand — the fully produced themed entertainment, the consistent operating standards across both venues, the media engine that compounds over time, and the in-house A/V expertise that protects margins.

Four areas where I add immediate value:

- Theatrical stage direction that lifts per-ticket spend
- Operational systems that make your day easier
- Media infrastructure that builds brand outside the four walls
- Technical A/V asset management that eliminates contractor costs

Most of this work can be implemented with little to no additional capital investment — leveraging staff, talent, and infrastructure already in place.

WHY ME

35+ Years of Entertainment & Performance Experience

Event Producer

Show Director

Artist Development

Marketing & Promotion

Audience Engagement

Professional DJ

Radio Personality

CREDIBILITY MARKERS

- 25 years elite pedigree — Miami, Atlanta, Raleigh; major-market residencies
- Head DJ for multi-venue brands — consistency and scale across locations
- Playboy Mansion, Groove Cruise, high-end private events
- In-house audio/visual engineering — measurable contractor cost reduction
- Custom DMX lighting scene design synchronized to emotional arc of music
- Digital rotation & SOP implementation — eliminates backstage friction

WHAT I ACTUALLY DELIVER

- Theatrical stage direction & pacing — music and lighting as a revenue lever
- Late-night industry capture — turns "after 2 AM" into a high-margin anchor
- Signature annual events — turnkey concepts with clear ROI and risk controls
- Entertainer music request system — weekly structured input improving retention
- Media engine — content, podcast, and influencer systems building brand
- A/V coverage across both locations — eliminates contractor dependency

WHY THIS MATTERS

DJing Is Only a Small Part of the Value I Bring

Bob, you already have a DJ rotation that runs every night across both venues. What this proposal is about is the layer underneath — the systems, programming, marketing, and operational design that turns a working club into a destination venue.

Marketing & Promotion

Brand building, social strategy, event marketing, audience acquisition — the engine that fills the room before the doors open.

Event Development & Production

Themed nights, special events, structured shows, recurring programming — the calendar that gives every night a reason to be there.

Show Direction & Programming

Entertainer management, stage direction, DJ set curation, crowd engagement — the layer that makes the experience feel alive.

These three pillars are what separate a club that runs on autopilot from a club that runs on systems.

THE VISION

A Club That Always Has Something Happening.

WHAT I'VE LEARNED

- Two locations, one operator — Torch (1826 W Main St, since 1997) + Torch 2 (610 S Vista Ave)
- 16-hour daily operation — 2 PM to 3 AM, 13 hours of floor per location
- Annual signature nights prove the audience can be activated
- Roll Call on the website — nightly entertainer roster is already a media asset
- Best of Boise branding — strong top-of-funnel recognition

WHERE I SEE GAPS

- Middle-of-week programming is mostly absent — branded drink nights exist, themed entertainment doesn't
- No unified weekly cadence across both venues — each does its own thing
- Media engine is light — second venue and daytime hours aren't being captured
- Only 4–5 signature annual events — calendar has room for headliner nights
- A/V infrastructure — contractor costs are a predictable cost line I can attack

REVENUE OPPORTUNITY

Per-Location Annual Revenue Benchmark

The Torch sits squarely in the top operating tier — 16-hour daily schedule, two-location footprint, established brand. A +15–25% revenue lift is a reasonable target from layered programming, in-house A/V coverage, and theatrical pacing.

STRATEGIC PILLARS

Four Areas of Focus

I. Revenue & Talent

Theatrical stage direction increases tipping and VIP bookings. Late-night industry anchor captures the after-hours crowd. Talent development acts as a magnet for high-quality auditions. Custom audio branding drives FOMO and upsells.

II. Operational Excellence

Digital rotation system eliminates backstage confusion. Entertainer music collaboration keeps the vibe fresh. SOP infrastructure ensures brand consistency across both locations. Featured Entertainer Program builds a roster of headliners.

III. Brand Media Engine

The Dancer Podcast positions The Torch as Boise's adult-entertainment authority. Daily content capture builds brand outside the four walls. Influencer + street team program activates the local nightlife ecosystem.

IV. Technical Asset Management

Audio engineering protects the investment. Lighting programming syncs to emotional arc. In-house coverage eliminates contractor calls across both venues — 16 hours × 2 locations × contractor avoidance.

PROGRAMMING LIBRARY

Weekly Coverage — Current vs. Systems Applied

The branded drink nights already exist on the website — what's missing is the fully-produced themed night underneath them.

MONDAYMug Love Mondays

Industry Night — service workers, bartenders, entertainers. No cover with paystub.

TUESDAYTequila Titties Tuesdays

No Limit — poker 7–10 PM, upscale swinger atmosphere after 10 PM.

WEDNESDAYLevel Up

Mario Kart vs. Entertainer on the LED screen. High-energy, college-night energy.

THURSDAYChicks 'n' Kicks

Sneaker culture night — trivia, fresh kicks costuming, throwback music pre-2010.

FRIDAYFemme Fatale

High-glamour night — Featured Entertainer showcase at midnight. Showtime Showcase.

SATURDAYAFTER DARK

Late-night anchor — full kitchen past 2 AM, guest DJs, after-hours crowd capture.

SIGNATURE EVENTS

Eight Headline Nights Across the Calendar

Psycho Circus — Halloween

Carnival / Freak Show with drummers, aerialists, poi/LED performers, choreographed dancers. Logical upgrade of the existing Halloween activation.

Tailgate & Touchdown — Labor Day

Daytime parking-lot tailgate — beer tubs, food trucks, lawn games, jersey raffles. Moves inside after dark.

NYE Gala — December 31

Premium open bar packages, champagne toast at midnight, countdown celebration. Higher cover, VIP tables, formal attire.

Blacklight Party — Flexible

Full UV/blacklight transformation. Neon body paint station, glow sticks, white clothing. EDM and hip-hop.

Valentine's Special — February 14

Couples packages, singles mingle games, romantic decor. Special couples dances and VIP experiences.

SneakerBall — Major Sports Weekend

Vendor booths, live art, fashion shows, sneaker culture showcase. Tied to high-traffic media window. The Torch's own signature.

St. Patrick's Day — March 17

Full green decor, Irish whiskey specials, green beer. Best green outfit contest. Green mandatory.

Pole Competition — Flexible

Multi-round pole dancing competition with judges panel. Amateur and pro divisions. Positions venue as serious platform for performance art.

MEDIA ENGINE

The Dancer Podcast

A monthly broadcast positioning The Torch as Boise's definitive adult-entertainment authority.

EPISODE FORMAT (~60 MIN)

- Roll Call Spotlight — 2–3 entertainers, interview + their signature tracks
- Behind the Booth — DJ interview and playlist breakdown
- The Industry Talk — what's happening in adult entertainment nationally
- Track Highlight Reel — peak-hour selections from the previous Saturday

Distribution: Mixcloud (primary) · Spotify · Apple Podcasts

WHY IT WORKS HERE

- The website already publishes Roll Call daily — that infrastructure exists
- The Dancer Podcast extends that same data into a monthly audio asset
- Every episode is searchable content that drives discovery for months
- The Torch stops being a place people go and starts being a brand people follow
- Compounds with every episode — the flywheel gets stronger over time

The podcast pilot launches within the first 90 days.

MEASUREMENT

How Success Is Measured

Six observable KPIs — the scoreboard that drives every decision in this proposal.

KPI	DEFINITION	SOURCE
Attendance Growth	Night-over-night headcount	Door counts, cover logs
Revenue	Bar, cover, and event-driven sales	POS exports, daily close
VIP Sales	Bottle service and premium package sales	VIP manifest
Guest Retention	Repeat visits and loyalty per quarter	Email/SMS list engagement, return rate
Entertainer Participation	Show buy-in and consistency	Roll Call + showtime manifest
Social Engagement	Reach, shares, and organic attendance growth	IG + TikTok analytics, weekly review

IMPLEMENTATION

Test · Measure · Scale

Phase 1

Test

Pilot select events and programming with minimal overhead. Validate what resonates. Bob and I review together after 30 days.

Week 1 — Week 4

Phase 2

Measure

Track the six KPIs. Compare against pre-pilot baseline. Identify which concepts are driving movement on the scoreboard.

Month 2 — Month 3

Phase 3

Scale

Double down on what works. Expand proven concepts across the calendar. Signature Events Calendar becomes the operating target.

Month 4+

Phase 1 begins week one. The first signature event lands inside the first 60 days. The Dancer Podcast pilot launches within the first 90 days.

WHY THE TORCH

Why The Torch Specifically

The Roll Call Infrastructure

Most operators have to build their nightly entertainer roster from scratch. The Torch already publishes it. The Dancer Podcast plugs directly into that existing asset — no build required.

Two Locations, One Operator

My value compounds at scale. The same DJ SOPs, lighting scenes, branded drink nights, and marketing engine — implemented once, deployed twice. My operating model is built for exactly that.

The Hours Are the Lever

16-hour daily operations, two locations, 365 days a year. The middle-of-the-week and daytime programming opportunity at The Torch is significantly larger than at a 9 PM – 2 AM single-location venue.

This is what I do best — fill the underused hours with programming that sells.

ERIC MILLS — ANIMAL

More revenue. Better experiences. Stronger brand. Easier operations.

I'd really enjoy the opportunity to work together. The goal is straightforward: add value aligned with how The Torch is already being run — steady, professional, and results-driven.
